Women, as Well as Men, Appreciate Our Safe Deposit Boxes

The risk and responsibility of keeping valuables about the house are too great when you consider that for a nominal sum, engaging one of these Safe Deposit Boxes, you can insure the safety of—

Bonds	Stocks	Leases
Mortgages	Notes	Receipts
Bills	Wills	Letters
Accounts	Policies	Photographs
Jewelry	Relics	Rare Coins

The box we have for you will hold all these things—maybe a good many more. And you'll find the rental is pretty cheap insurance. Women should insist on better protection for valuables than a mere drawer or trunk at home. Come in and see us.

Effects of Eyestrain

A few of the many symptoms of eyestrain are dry, itchy, or inflamed eyes, pain in eyeballs, eyes tire easily, dizziness, headache, sick-headache, made worse by shopping, riding on cars—cross eyes etc., etc.; and by its constant drain upon the nervous system eyestrain is one of the great disturbers of good health. The cause of eyestrain is an imperfectly developed eyeball and the only way to stop it is by the constant wear of properly fitted glasses. My business is fitting glasses to correct the full defect and stop all eyestrain. My next date at Dr. Merrill's office is Monday, March 1.

Mrs. Claude Gard and a friend from Los Angeles attended the opening of the Exposition.

The younger boys' athletic class was begun Wednesday afternoon at the Congregational gymnasium.

Mrs. P. B. Payne is confined to her house with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert and daughter, Elmarie, were here for the week end and the Old Settlers' Celebration.

Found: Auto gauntlet-glove on Los Gatos and Santa Clara road. Owner prove property and pay for this ad at the Press office.

Mrs. E. Fritz of Sunnyside Poultry Yard brought a Mammoth Pekin duck egg to our office which measures 7x8 inches and weighs $\frac{1}{4}$ of a pound.

Mrs. Mary Palmer is building an addition to her house on North Second St., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kennedy will make their home with her later.

J. W. Tawney, who recently sold his home on Los Gatos road, to R. E. Cairns of Patchen, Cal., has moved into the house known as the S. G. Rodeck home. Mr. Cairns is expected to arrive at his house this week.

Mr. A. P. Merrill was taken sick Saturday evening and was quite ill Sunday and Monday, the doctor pronouncing it a case of ptomaine poisoning. His many friends extend their sympathy upon such a "welcome home" and hope to see him out soon.

C. J. Ludwig and family have moved into the C. B. Miracle house on North Central avenue. Welcome to our city, tho you haven't lived very far away at any time. Mr. J. J. Reeves who recently purchased the Ludwig ranch will move there this week.

A most delightful evening was enjoyed at the special Fanny Crosby song service at the Congregational Church last Sunday night. Some of the songs—new and old—were sung and all went away with a new appreciation of the contribution of "The Blind Hymn Writer" to the deeper life of the world.

The Boy's Club of the Congregational Church are rejoicing over the fact that they have been granted permission to put in a shower bath near their club room in the church basement. The boys are doing the work—excavating and ditching—themselves, and the men will help with the expert work and expenses.

A Class Social

The "Sock Social" which the Searchlight Class gave Friday night at the Congregational church was quite unique in some of its features. The admission fees were handed in in pink socks and were to be twice the number of the size of stockings worn. Feet in Campbell must be of pretty fair size, for altho the attendance was good it was not a record breaker and still the socks netted about $17.

The program opened with stereopticon views of scenes after the earthquake and the San Francisco fire, with an interesting talk by Rev. Atkinson. Miss Agnes Stewart gave a very good monologue of an elderly lady trying to help pay off the debts of the various church boards.

A poetic medley by Eleanor Carter, Catherine Cooper and Belle Ricker created much amusement. A solo by Mr. Smith and a reading by Mrs. Smith were followed by pantomime. It gave the audience new ideas on housefurnishing, the young lady turning her gentlemen callers into a hat rack, center table and arm chair as they arrived successively.

Punch and wafers were served in the dining room and then games finished a pleasant evening.

A Gentleman

Show us the man who can quit the society of the young and take pleasure in listening to the kindly voice of age; show us a man who is ever ready to pity and help the deformed; show us a man who bows so politely and gives the street as freely to a poor sewing girl as to the millionaire; who values virtue, not clothes; shuns the company of such as congregate at public places to gaze at the fair sex, or make unkind remarks of passing poor girls; show us the man who abhors the libertine; who scorns the ridicule of his mother's sex, and the exposure of womanly reputation; show us the man who never forgets for an instant the delicacy and respect due a woman, as a woman in any condition or case—and you will show us a true gentleman.

The Big Day at Campbell a Success

Old Settlers' Day celebration drew its fair proportion of attendance Monday in face of the Exposition attractions and the threatening weather. A number of the former residents of Campbell and vicinity gathered here to meet their friends and make new acquaintances.

The exercises were held at the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church, commencing at 10 o'clock. Chairman of the Day Geo. E. Hyde gave the address of welcome paying a special tribute to the pioneers and early settlers of the state and urging the preparation of our homes and valley for the great opportunities that are at our door.

The Rev. W. W. Willard of San Jose was then introduced and presented one of the ablest addresses which Campbell has heard. His subject, "The New Internationalism," was one of such vital interest to all, and presented matters in such a clear way that it received the highest commendation. He reviewed the lines upon which nations are now internationalized, literature, science, religion and commerce. But the two snags upon which we founder as yet, are industry and politics. When the spirit of justice, brotherly love and right relationships prevail, the New Internationalism will arrive and ultimately we shall have the "United States of the World."

Ralph W. Simons of San Jose who assisted the Choral Society in its production of the "Chimes of Normandy," sang two charming solos, "The Bannerman" and "Beloved, It Is Morn," responding to encores for each.

After one verse of America the audience adjourned for lunch. Many enjoyed basket lunches at the Odd Fellows Hall, others ate at the Coffee Club, and a great number had family dinners.

At 1:30 the program was resumed and was largely musical, the Campbell Glee Club furnishing two numbers, "The Soldiers' Chorus" and "The Long Day Closes." Miss Ruth Lloyd accompanied; Miss Muriel Palmer sang "An Open Secret," Josef Halamicek, accompanist; the ever popular trio, Miss Bessie Kalas, piano, Josef Halamicek, violin, Jan Kalas, violincello, played a trio from Beethoven, "Poem" and "Loves Delight," all of these musicians responding liberally with encores. The other feature of the entertainment was a reading by F. H. Weld, who was called back twice.

The basket ball games drew quite a crowd of enthusiasts, altho the rain threatened to drench their enthusiasm. All who witnessed the sport enjoyed it as much as the players did.

The ladies' game played by the High School team and Alumni was a close one from start to finish ending with a score of 11 to 10 in favor of the Alumni. The High girls at times developed a considerable degree of team work that always netted points. The girls deserve every encouragement for their athletics which are as necessary for their physical development as for the boys. The team did remarkably well for the little training they have had and should develop into a winner for next season. Owing to the slippery spots of the court the best of play was not possible and the Highs were at a greater disadvantage.

The line-up for the Highs: Leonora Costa, Dorothea Harris, Valeria De Remer, Captain, Durett Gardner, Alice Toll, Dorothy Feathers and Hope Lent.

The Alumni: Mildred Duncan Carter, Ernestine Kennedy Farley, Lucy Joy, Alice Joy, Marion Duncan and Florence Brown.

The boys High team then proceeded to literally "smear em" against a pick-up of Alumni, in a contest which became most exciting at times. Some of the Alumni made many and diverse attempts at rugby, some had a fondness for wrestling, others indulged in the manly sport of swimming while still others enjoyed (back-) sliding. The game was one big scream throat and proved quite an attraction of the day.

The game was refereed by Easton Carter, a former star player at the High and at times took a hand in the fracas. The score, which was really a secondary matter and not to be considered as a part of the days entertainment, was 61 to 19.

The High players were, Irwin Righter, Captain, Leland Lancaster, Edwin Kennedy, Will Ludwig and Erick Bydekarken.

The pick-ups: D. H. Cramer, Robert Kennedy, John Wood, Carl Scholz and Harold Lancaster.

SKATES ARE MADE OF WOOD

Excellent Substitute for Usual Steel-Runner Kind and Will Prevent Spraining of Person's Ankle.

Skates that will take the place of the usual steel-runner kind and which will prevent spraining of the ankles, can be made of a few pieces of one-half-inch hardwood boards, writes F. E. Kenna of Hennessey, Okla., in Popular Mechanics.

Four runners are cut out, two inches wide at the back and one and one-half inches wide at the front, the length to be two inches longer than the shoe. The two edges of a pair of runners are then nailed to the under side of a board four inches wide, at its edges.

A piece of board, or block, two inches wide is fastened between the runners at the rear, and one one inch wide in front. Two bolts are run through holes bored in the runners, one just back of the front board, or block, and the other in front of the rear one.

Four triangular pieces are fastened, one on each corner, so that the heel and toe of the shoe will fit between them, and, if desired, a crosspiece can be nailed in front of the heel. Straps are attached to the sides for attaching the skate to the shoe. Both skates are made alike.

UNIQUE BAZAAR ON WHEELS

Novel Entertainment Furnished by "Pushcart Fair"—Carts May Be Rented for Occasion.

A pushcart fair is an amusing outdoor entertainment that will be novel to most. You can hire the carts for a small sum, and you get rid of the work of trimming booths. Those who have charge of the carts should wear the costumes of different peoples—Italians, Germans, Jews, negroes, Greeks, or any others that fancy may select.

Articles for sale are arranged on the carts and sold from them as from ordinary booths. There are pushcarts for fancy articles, others for household things, still others for candy, for toys, and for lemonade and cake, ice cream, or tea. If you can get a hand and have pretzels and "sausages" sold from the German cart so much the better. The "sausages" are for the grab bag—small articles rolled in long folds of brown crepe paper, tied with fine string at each end.

A pushcart supper will furnish much amusement. Cups and saucers, plates, etc., are bargained for at the first cart, and the supper itself is gathered piecemeal from the display on the various carts.—Youth's Companion.

OPPORTUNITY FOR POOR BOY

Career of Thomas Burt Calls Attention to the Fact That Others May Rise to Prominence.

The retirement of Thomas Burt, member of parliament and privy councillor, at the age of seventy-seven, calls attention to the fact that it is not alone in the United States poor boys may rise to positions of public prominence and distinction.

Burt was the son of an English miner and at ten years of age went to work in a Durham colliery for 20 cents a day. He had a passion for study and spent all his spare moments in reading. At twenty-five he became an official of his miners' union and at thirty-seven was elected to parliament as a Liberal.

In 1892 he was made a member of the ministry, as undersecretary for the home office, and in 1906 was honored by appointment as privy councillor.

Interest in Farming.

Everywhere people are doing their best to stimulate an interest in agriculture on the part of young boys and girls. The courses that are offered by public schools, the attitude of the rural teachers toward farming and the work of the agricultural colleges are all attracting considerable attention.

Reading for Boys and Girls.

Do your boys and girls like to read history? There could be no finer subject for them to be interested in. Get some good books in this line. And read them yourself, as well as encourage the young folks to do it.

BATTLE SCARRED BELGRADE

STREET IN BELGRADE.

BELGRADE, "the little Paris of the Balkans," and perhaps the most bombed city of the present war, has probably seen more battles fought under its walls, and experienced the surge, shock and eddies of war more often than any other city in Europe. Its whole story is one of conflicts of races, religions and governments, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society.

Belgrade has more than two thousand years of history, and has had some seventy generations of seldom-idle warriors. An important key to the Balkan lands on the north; a point dominating the traffic between the upper and lower Danube; at one time an outpost of Roman power; at another time considered the key to Hungary; for five centuries situated on the borderland between Moslems and Christians, and now a Slavonian outpost, Belgrade never since its foundation has been able to feel any certainty about the morrow's peace.

The Serbian capital was founded in the third century before Christ upon a triangular, rocky promontory at the confluence of the Save and Danube rivers. It lies opposite the Slavonian town of Semlin, in Hungary. Upon one side the Danube, here about two thousand three hundred feet wide, divides it from Hungary, while the Save, 1,250 feet wide, bounds another foot of the triangle. The ground of the city is an unsymmetrical razorback, sloping abruptly to the west and more gently to the east. At the apex of this triangle is a chalky cliff 200 feet high, which overlooks and guards both rivers.

Celts Built First Fortifications.

The Celts built the first fortification on this strategic rock. They called it Singidunum. The Romans were the next possessors, and they added to the city's strength. The Roman empire fell to pieces, and Belgrade became a battlefield for many races converging from every quarter of the compass. Huns, Samatians, Goths and Gepids were, in turn, its masters from the fourth to the sixth century. The Emperor Justinian brought it again under Roman rule, fortified and improved it. It was captured by Charlemagne's Frankish adventurers, overrun by Bulgars, reconquered by Byzantium, wrested from the Greeks by the Hungarians, and then battle-dreaded, with rapid-changing fortunes of war, among Greeks, Bulgars, Hungarians and Germans.

In the fourteenth century the city was in the hands of Serbian kings first, and later was held by the Hungarians. Then came the Turks. They waged a number of unsuccessful campaigns against the city, but finally it fell into their hands in 1521, a prize for the Sultan Suleiman. It remained practically in the power of these masters until 1867, bearing the brunt of every attack upon the Ottoman from the north and west. Internal dissensions kept things lively, even when Turkey was at peace with her neighbors. The Turks called the city "the home of wars for faith."

Between the sixteenth and the nineteenth centuries the Serbian capital was conquered a number of times, and besieged often. It, however, always found its way back to Turkey, and although Serbia practically became independent in the early part of the nineteenth century, the Turkish garrison at Belgrade was not withdrawn until 1867.

Became a Big, Gay City.

Belgrade is the governmental and religious center, the center of art and culture, the financial, commercial and foreign trade center of the Serbian kingdom, and it is the kernel of the Serbs' national consciousness. Since the withdrawal of the Turkish garrison, it has blossomed out into a modern city, with the streets, electric lights, street cars, and parks and other gay places of recreation. It has earned its designation of "little Paris of the Balkans," for there is a deal of finery, at Paris-imitated tone, in Belgrade;

much of this, however, due to poverty, is tawdry.

The capital's houses are long stretches of white, with more of garden and tree planting around them than is usually found in a western city. The population has grown rapidly since 1867, from 26,000 in 1884, to 90,000 in 1910, and is a typical Balkan city mixture, composed of Servians, Bulgars, Greeks, Turks, Macedonians, Czechs, Jews, Hungarians and Germans. The city has a number of handsome public buildings, many large, well-appearing business structures, numerous hotels, a university and a national library with 60,000 volumes.

The beginnings of prosperity were evident before the first Balkan war. The exports of the Serbian people passed mainly through Belgrade, and were taken by Austria-Hungary. These exports consisted almost entirely of raw materials, for Serbia has never enjoyed a sufficient period of peace and good management to save a capital for industrial development. Belgrade had some industries—leather working, brick making, alcohol distillation, printing and brewing. Most of its manufactured goods, however, were imported.

Belgrade in latter years has been one of the most patriotic capitals under the sun. It has seethed and bubbled and boiled with pride and hope for its country. The Serbs have undertaken every effort aiming toward making their capital known, respected and even admired abroad.

CALLED "SHREDS OF SATAN"

For Uncanny Knowingness and Prankish Audacity the Indian Crow Has No Equal.

Travelers in the Orient have much to say about the Indian crow, a bird that for uncanny knowingness and prankish audacity has perhaps no equal. Corvus splendens—thus have ethnologists flatteringly labeled him; but a famous naturalist who knows the breed at first hand has called them "shreds of Satan, clinders from Tartarus." To give these impish creatures their due, however, it should be said that life in India is not a little enlivened by their presence. A Companion correspondent witnessed the following incident:

A small hawk had seized a little bird and perched on a leafless branch to devour his prey. The spectacle drew two crows to the spot. They hopped and flapped from branch to branch, noisily discussing the strategy of their intended raid.

Then one of them quietly slipped away through the surrounding foliage. At the same time his mate fled in front of the perching hawk, and hovering steadily within a foot of his beak, maintained a bustling menace of snatching the titbit. That effectually compelled the attention of the hawk. His prey firmly grasped beneath his feet, he angrily hissed and lunged at the hovering nuisance. So lively was the skirmish that the human onlooker forgot the existence of the second crow. But now that wily bird reappeared some distance in the rear of his destined victim. With stealthy sidings and short, noiseless flights, he drew near. Then he made a swift dash, seized the hawk's long, barred tail by the tip, hung on it with his full weight, and toppled the luckless hawk in a complete back somersault from the perch! The released titbit was instantly seized by the first crow, and the clever pair bore off their booty with much triumphant cawing.

The Uncomplaining Woman.

Lives there a man who does not believe that an uncomplaining woman has nothing to complain of? It is his masculine prerogative of destiny. Besides, does not he himself when hurt bellow like a bull? Why, he argues, should not wounded woman do the same?—W. J. Locke in "Simon the Jester."

IT WAS REAL LOVE

By MYRTLE BAIRD WEBSTER.

Peter Lowden was a disappointed man. He had been six months in the United States and half that time in Chicago, and it seemed as though that period had been set aside by some cruel destiny as a special purgatorial test for his stanch spirit.

"I'm wearin' awa for a sight of auld Scotia's heather bloom," he sighed as from a deep dark pit of penury and discouragement. "And Jessie!"

That was where honest loyal Peter's heart pinched hardest. He could philosophize calmly over high hopes quickly blasted as to sudden wealth and position in "the new far country." He was content with a dish of weak brose and an occasional finnan haddie—but Jessie, light of his heart! How he had hoped to wed his pretty modest fiancée and "busk her fine i' silken gown and siller ha' to spare," and now "the braw moon" glistened o'er a weary city street, Peter penniless and hopeless, and Jessie—lost!

It had come about strangely. She, an orphan, had left the little town where both had been born a few months in advance of Peter. She had written him as agreed only once, to furnish him with the penciled address of the home in Chicago where she had found employment as a lady's maid. Armed with this, Peter started to try his own fortunes in America and to be near his future bride.

For three months in New York Peter wore out shoes and patience looking for work. Finally he saved up enough to pay his fare to Chicago. He was crossing the ferry to take the train at Jersey City, when an unfortunate outcast, a woman passenger, jumped overboard in a desperate attempt at suicide. Peter bravely leaped after and rescued her. He was damp and uncomfortable the first stage of his train journey. Then came the appalling discovery that his soaking in the river had blurred out the precious penciled address that was his only clue to Jessie.

"What Else Are Ye But a Fine Whistler?"

Then came a month in Chicago where the inexperienced lad patrolled the city streets, seeking the lady of his love, to meet with bitter, utter disappointment. He spent his last dollar advertising for her without result. He finally gave up the disheartening quest. Peter shuddered when he recalled the wretched woman on the ferry boat. Then again, Jessie might be dead, or—wedded to another! All Peter could do now was to try and keep body and soul together through odd jobs. At home he had mastered the baker's trade, but, and nobody seemed to want such fare at American restaurants.

Now, this especial bleak evening Peter was at the last extremity. He was cold, sleepy, hungry. As he was passing a large dark building, however, his eye brightened. It had two bulletin boards at its front. Each of these held a placard of some kind, in the center of which, plainly visible even at a distance, was the counterfeited presentment of a huge Scotch thistle.

"Certes, the sight warms the cockles o' my heart!" breathed Peter rapidly, and as he came nearer he discovered that the placards announced a Robert Burns birthday concert the following evening.

"It's like a whiff o' hame," continued Peter. "Braw Bobby! I'm oot o' sich festivities at the present time, but a man's a man for a' that, an' I'll take heart o' cheer," and seating himself on the cold stone steps Peter began to warble out cheerily, "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonny Doon."

"Heeh, mon! but ye're frae Dumbarton, I ken?" Peter jumped up to observe a frowsy ancient head stuck out past a half-open door.

"Ye hae the burr o' the same!" cried Peter.

"Coom in," invited the other, with a commiserating glance over Peter, and he admitted him, closed and locked the door after him and led him into the basement of the hall which seemed given over to kitchen uses.

It contained great ranges, pots, pans, crockery, barrels of flour, bags of sugar, in fact a culinary outfit that astonished the inexperienced Peter. Then, as he was regarding the layout open-mouthed, his host shot the shrewd inquiry at him:

"What else are ye but a fine whistler?"

"A fine baker!" proclaimed Peter with proud confidence—"but Scotch, mind ye. The trade's no good in this country."

It took David McPherson, club cook, a very few minutes to turn his fellow countryman "inside out," as he expressed it.

"And what for all this prodigious food?" questioned Peter.

"The banquet, mon," returned David. "It's the spread after the concert and the speechifying—the real enjoyment, with mountain dew addendum," and the old fellow went on to tell how, as the chef de cuisine in all the functions of St. Andrews' society he held a lucrative and busy place.

"I can use ye, lad, maybe permanently, if ye fill the bill," he said, and he shared his supper and his bed with Peter, to wake up at sunrise to find his guest standing patiently beside him in a manifest state of suppressed excitement.

"I've an idea," spoke Peter. "It waked me hours since," and then with enthusiastic vim he developed a wondrous scheme that had come into his mind. Scotsmen all, those at the banquet might hail the novelty of real Scotch cooking with ardor.

"Their mutton pies, ye mind," explained Peter. "Their mouths will water for the real home-made cookery. And brose—no great quantity, but a suggestion of the heathery moor and the childhood cot. And scones, and oat cakes, and short bread, and whole wheat farrels, and Melton Mowbray pork pies!"

Peter had set the imagination of old David on fire. He was heart and soul in harmony with the plan of surprising the banqueters with Scotch fare purely. And so it came about. It was a marvelous success. Upon the eventful night men who saw before them the unadulterated products of their home soil, grew tender and loyal, and the hall rang with unrestrained enthusiasm that marked the occasion as glowing and grand.

Now at the banquet was one Peter Wilbur. And it so happened that at the home of this stalwart son of Scotia, now a prosperous business man, Jessie had secured employment. Peter had taken home one of the mutton pies to remind his wife of old times, as he had been reminded, and Mrs. Wilbur had given it to Jessie.

"I've noticed ye're longing all the time," she said to her favorite maid, "Maybe for home. Here's a touch of it, lassie, that may solace your poor homesick heart."

Jessie took the pie and began to partake of it with eyes retrospective and tearful. A taste made her sob.

"There was one, and one only in old Scotia who made the like," she wailed—"my best laddie, and—oh!" She burst into a scream, staring at a cross-mark upon the top layer of crust.

"Peter's mark! I know it well," she tremored. "Ah! only he used that mark. Oh, tell me, tell me whence came the pie!"

Mr. Wilbur was called and he explained. On with her bonnet, and Jessie was flying in the direction of the hall where old David had engaged Peter as his permanent assistant.

She burst in upon them unceremoniously. She fell into his outstretched arms. There were only two words spoken, but so fervently uttered that old David thrilled at their simple eloquence—

"Lassie!"

"Laddie!"

Moleskin Is Profitable.

Moleskins have been extensively used in this country during the last few years in making fur garments, and practically all of the supply has been imported from Europe. In the belief that the common mole of eastern United States produces fur of equal value, skins were submitted to professional furriers, who stated that the quality is superior to the foreign product. A report on the economic status of the eastern species was published during the year. The mole inhabiting the northwestern coast is larger than the common eastern species, and a number of these have been collected in order to obtain a report on the quality of the pelt. If the texture of the fur proves to be as good as that of the eastern animal, there is no reason why trappers should not secure a good income by capturing these animals, as the area they inhabit is extensive. In many localities an acre of ground supports as many as a hundred individuals. If this little animal can be profitably trapped for its fur the problem of freeing agricultural areas from it will practically be solved.

Hint for Photographers.

Carbonate of soda is an accelerator for the reducing agent. With most developers, when they are dissolved alone in water, the image will ultimately appear, but it will come very slowly. Add a strong solution of carbonate of soda to the reducing agent and water and the image will fairly leap at you. The reduction of the bromide of silver has been tremendously hastened and it is also more thorough and complete, the negative having much greater density. This is the sole mission of a carbonate of soda in the developer. It is to speed things up and complete the action—Outing.

DIED FOR AN IDEA

Remarkable Act of Misguided Hindu Fanatic.

Intended to Show Loyalty to British Rulers by Hanging Head Downward, and Actually Lived Thus for Twelve Days.

This man hanging head downward, when his photograph was taken, was in the best of humors and doing the unusual stunt because he liked it, and because he wished thus to honor the royal visitors from England. He was an East Indian fakir, and gave this remarkable performance in Lahore.

The fealty of the Hindu princes, who are eager to help England in the great struggle with money and men, has caused some surprise among those who have been reading from time to time about the "menacing, unrest in India." That this man who cheerfully sacrificed his life in honoring, in his own peculiar fashion, a royal visit may be typical of a great number of faithful subjects of the British empire is indicated by a recent writer.

Other things done for the prince and the princess of Wales—now the king and queen of England—on their visit to India may have been more impressive from a spectacular point of view, but none could have been more sincere than that of this unnamed fakir.

"In an ecstasy of loyalty," writes a correspondent, "he hung himself up by his feet directly he heard that the prince and the princess of Wales were to visit India, the act being designed to prove his gratitude for the honor paid to his country. He intended to remain suspended until the arrival of the royal pair, but succumbed under the self-imposed ordeal at the end of 12 days."

Mouse's Nest in Skull.

The mystery of the cheeping noises in the valley chamber of commerce has been solved. In the display room is a graphic exhibit. There is a skull of an unknown man found on the Colorado desert. Beside it is a stalk of cotton raised in green Imperial valley. The cotton was raised where the skull was found.

For several days queer noises were heard in the room but the cause baffled Secretary Place and other officers. Finally, W. H. Compton, a director and lecturer for the exposition at San Francisco, decided upon a minute search, and in the skull he found a mouse. It had taken some of the cotton and started a nest.

"That man probably did not have rats in the garret, but he certainly has now," commented a man just from Iowa, who was in the room.—El Centro (Cal.) Dispatch to the San Francisco Bulletin.

Restricting Growth of Cotton.

A law has been passed in South Carolina that provides that no planter shall have more than one-third of his cultivated area in cotton, and placing a tax of $25 for each per acre evasion of the law. All sheriffs, district attorneys, and other state and municipal officials are made responsible for the carrying out of this statute. As a result South Carolina is already beginning to diversify her crops, and it is said that her farmers are now sowing wheat and oats in greater quantities than ever before in the state. In some cases the people are not waiting for the cotton crop to be harvested, but have sown their grain between the rows of cotton plants.

International Credits.

The credit system is a part of international as of national trade. Germany won much business in South America by giving long credits. The retailer in South America usually does not receive cash. This credit plan is by no means best, but if our goods are sold to responsible buyers, better that we sell on credit than not to sell at all. Long credits seriously diminish the profits of much American business. Establishment of American banks in South America will help our Pan-American trade.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

TRADE PROSPECTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Improvement in business since depression reached low tide several months ago has been gradual. Confidence has been restored and unless all signs fail, the country is scheduled for a boom almost unparalleled.

In order to overcome the depression that attacks a person in poor health it is necessary that particular attention be paid to the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. These organs are the controlling power in all matters pertaining to health and there is nothing will make you feel "so blue" and discouraged as to be without appetite—to be subject to spells of headache, indigestion, dyspepsia, and biliousness—or to have constipated bowels.

Nature never intended anyone to be in such a condition and the only way to improve matters is to give necessary aid promptly. This suggests a trial of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, because it has an established reputation as a tonic and appetizer, and will be found very helpful in any Stomach, Liver or Bowel ailment. It is well known as a real "first aid," and for over 60 years has held a permanent place in thousands of homes. You will make no mistake in purchasing a bottle today, but be careful to see that the Private Stamp over the neck is unbroken. This is your protection against imitations.

A POTATO ROMANCE

"If I were a farmer boy, or a boy without capital, and wanted an early competency, I'd start right out growing Potatoes," said Henry Schroeder, the Potato king of the Red River Valley, whose story in the John A. Salzer Seed Co.'s Catalogue reads stranger than a romance.

That advice of Mr. Schroeder's, the self-made Potato king, comes from a warm heart, a level head, an active hand, and above all, a successful Potato grower!

Do You Know, Mr. Farmer,

there is more money in five acres of Potatoes year in and year out than in anything you can grow on your farm, and the growing of Potatoes now, with present machinery, etc., is easy. It's regular Fourth of July fun!

Salzer's Creations in Seed Corn put Wisconsin on the Corn Map with its astonishing yields!

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

Plural Titles.

All peers above the rank of baron are pluralists in the matter of titles, but the Duke of Buccleuch, who has just died, was a pluralist even in dukedoms. His forbears married the daughters and sisters of kings, and he himself was a lineal descendant of Charles II, to whom the family owed the highest title. Charles' son, the Duke of Monmouth, married Anne Countess of Buccleuch, and on their wedding day Anne—the duchess in "The Lay of the Last Minstrel"—persuaded Charles to make them Lord and Lady Scott of Whitechester, Earl and Countess of Dalkeith, and Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch. To the third duke came in 1706 another dukedom, that of Queensberry, and the late, the sixth, duke held them both, together with a marquessate, four earldoms, three viscounties and four or five baronies.—London Chronicle.

Just Getting Wise.

Senator Borah of Idaho recently bought a motor car. Borah had never before undertaken to operate any mechanical device more complicated than a monkey wrench or a wheelbarrow. After he had succeeded in reaching home without getting maimed he took a long breath and remarked solemnly to his wife:

"When I became a United States senator I thought I had taken on grave responsibilities. Why, I didn't know what grave responsibilities were!"

Catarrh of Kidneys Cured By Peruna

"I had Catarrh of the Kidneys and Bladder. I Am Very Thankful For Peruna. I Feel Well, My tongue is clear, I have no bitter taste in my mouth. I am glad to say I do not need Peruna any longer, I am perfectly well. I have Peruna in the house all the time. When I have a cold or when I do not feel well I take Peruna. We were all sick with the grip last winter. We took Peruna and it helped us. Peruna is the best medicine for grip or colds."

Eggs (Piedmont Style).

Chop four anchovies and dissolve them (free from bones and skin) in one-half pint of good stock; add the yolks of six eggs and the beaten white of two. Stir over the fire until smooth, pour over some slices of toast which have been laid in a dish, sprinkle some grated cheese over all and bake ten minutes in a hot oven.

Jacobin's Pottage.

Chop the meat of cold turkey fine; add two ounces of grated parmesan cheese, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Make four or five slices of toast, put them in the bottom of a dish and add one cup of stock, then the chopped meat and a sprinkling of breadcrumbs. Bake one hour, add lemon juice on top.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapiesin" Makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs Surely Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas, and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia of any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

Wanted Football Results.

The New York Evening Post relates a story told in England of Captain von Muller, late of the Emden. One night while the British cruiser Yarmouth was escorting a merchant ship out of Singapore, the wireless operator received calls from a ship some distance away. He answered them, and to his surprise found that he was in communication with the German cruiser Emden. The transmitted message was as follows: "Captain von Muller and the wardrobe mess send their compliments and would be obliged if the Yarmouth would let them have the result of the inter-regimental rugby football match." The result was duly given, together with an intimation that it would not be very long before the captain of the Emden and the wardrobe mess would have the opportunity of a personal attendance at all field and track events in England.

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to know clearly understood why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the myriad of fine blood vessels that make up the constructive tissues of the kidneys. All the action all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as testers and assessors. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S. acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination, shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed to the excretories; their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, huskiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S., so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular strength and regain the normal health. S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 527 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble, write to their Medical Dept. for free advice.

Evading Responsibilities.

"I promised that girl never to smoke if she would marry me," said the discouraged looking man.

"What did she say?"

"She remarked that she did not care to be utilized as an excuse for any personal economies I might contemplate."

Shrimp Bisque Soup.

Stir one heaping tablespoonful flour with enough milk or cream to make a paste; put into the saucepan one-half pint milk—good measure—the yolk of one egg well beaten, a tablespoonful butter, salt and pepper to taste, add one-half cupful chopped shrimps the last thing. Serve hot.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated, Cleanse Little Bowels With "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Children Have Kidney Trouble

Three years ago my little girl, Angela, was taken sick with scarlet fever and later dropsy set in; her face and limbs swelled and her eyes puffed. A leading physician here at the time, treated her without the slightest success. A sample of your Swamp-Root having been left at the house at the time, I resolved to try it, and as it agreed with her stomach I continued using it with gratifying results. The inflammation began to subside after she had taken the first fifty-cent bottle, and after she took two large bottles she was pronounced cured by the doctor and has been in good health ever since. The doctor came to see her every day and examined her every second day until he pronounced her kidneys in perfect condition.

Now then the doctor was under the impression that I was giving my girl his medicine, but as his medicine had failed to do a bit of good, and desiring not to offend him, I did not tell him I was giving her Swamp-Root and he did not know the difference. I did not use one drop of his medicine after I started my girl on Swamp-Root, and have always felt that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root saved my girl's life, for which I am grateful.

I cannot praise it too highly. Very truly, MRS. MARY BYRNE, New Brunswick, N. J. State of New Jersey, County of Middlesex ss.

Mrs. Mary Byrne, being duly sworn by me, according to law, on her oath saith that the above statement made by me is just and true.

There Are Days When Fish Will Be Appreciated, and Baked Cod Can Be Recommended.

Here is a good way of baking cod: Have the fish skinned and backbone removed. Lay on an earthenware platter, open. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip oysters separately in melted butter, then in crumbs and lay on one-half of fish. When covered fold other side over, brush with beaten egg, moisten the crumbs with the butter. There will be some oyster liquor in the butter from dipping, but use it. Cover the fish with the crumbs so prepared. Do not put any water on the fish. Set pan of water under the platter to keep platter from cracking and have oven hot. A four-pound fish will require one-half pint oysters, one-half pint crumbs and one-quarter cupful of butter. Bake about forty minutes. Serve on the platter it is baked in. If you wish to bake the fish with the skin and bone on put plenty of strips of fat pork over it and baste with the drippings. Never use water for baked fish. Do not bake too long. When the flakes separate it is done. When baked on a platter, without the skin, it requires no basting.

To Iron Linen.

An excellent way to iron table linen is first to dry it thoroughly in the air. Then dip it into boiling water and put it through the wringer. Each article is then folded in a dry cloth and allowed to remain there for at least a couple of hours. Irons must be hot, but not scorching, and the linen ironed perfectly dry.

HOW TO HEAL THAT RAW, ITCHING, SCALY SKIN

If you are suffering with eczema, ringworm, rash or similar tormenting skin diseases, try resolin ointment and resolin soap. You will be surprised how quickly the itching stops and the skin becomes clear and healthy again. Prescribed by doctors for 20 years. All druggists sell resolin ointment (50c and $1.00), and resolin soap (25c).—Advt.

Cold Catchup.

Cut four quarts of tomatoes fine add one cupful of chopped onions, one cupful of nasturtium seeds that have been cut fine, one cupful of freshly grated horse-radish, three large stalks of celery chopped, one cupful of whole mustard seed, one-half cupful of salt one rounding tablespoonful each of black pepper, cloves and cinnamon, a level tablespoonful of mace, one-half cupful of sugar and four quarts of vinegar.

Mix all well together and put into jars or bottle. It needs no cooking but must stand several weeks to ripen.

Baked Spare Ribs.

Anyone that likes spare ribs will find this an improvement over poiling them. Put spare ribs in cold water and let cook for almost an hour. Into a baking dish put a layer of raw sliced onions. Lay the spare ribs on this and finish dish with another layer of onion and the top layer of potatoes. Add enough hot water to half fill dish and bake one hour, covered the first half hour. Serve with boiled cabbage.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take. Do not gripe.—Advt.

Salmon Grab.

One can salmon, one-half cupful milk, two eggs, one-half cupful cracker crumbs, salt and pepper. Beat yolks of eggs and then add the other ingredients, adding the beaten whites last. Bake one-half hour. Slice cold and serve with or without mayonnaise dressing.

Ever Been There.

Gabe—What's the matter? You look as though you had lost all your friends.

Steve—I was the victim of a black hand outrage last night.

Gabe—How did it happen?

Steve—The other fellow held five spades.

Sweetbreads.

Put two or more pounds of sweetbreads in lukewarm water for an hour, then boil them for another hour, drain them well and when cold bake them in a hot oven, basting them with the liquor which comes from them until they are nicely browned all over.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I should have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission has issued an order putting into permanent effect a new schedule of rates for Wells Fargo & Company.

The tentative rates fixed by the Commission in its decision of February 9, 1914, which effected a reduction of approximately $750,000 a year in the express rates throughout the State, are now, with some adjustments, made final. The rates as previously fixed were experimental and the company has kept exact records over a six months period to show the effect of the reduced tariffs. These records show that an average cut of approximately 15 percent
has been made in the company's rates,
although the specific reductions at certain points will average very much more.

For San Jose, which may be taken as typical of all points in Santa Clara County, the reduction on general merchandise shipments of 100 pounds or over ranges from 7 percent to 25 percent, while on small package merchandise
shipments of 50 pounds or less the reduction ranges from 10 percent to 50 percent.

February 18, 1915.

Granger Cleanings

Orchard City Grange met in regular form Tuesday evening. Stormy weather again kept many of the members home.
However a goodly number were present and a very interesting meeting was had,
the Committees on Legislation and Education occupying most of the time. The Grange as a body did not take action on the bills presented but entered into a free discussion of the same, and will take a vote on the various measures before the meeting of the Legislature.

A letter was read from the State Secretary of the Grange calling the attention of all Patrons of Husbandry to the fact that the present year is an auspicious
one. The great Panama Exposition at San Francisco with Grange Headquarters
in the California Building, the State Grange meeting at Oakland in October and the National Grange meeting in Oakland in November should stimulate each member to better work in building up the Order.

ing program was rendered:—Reading,

Incidental Music.

One of the most tiresome, not to say exasperating, traditions of the theater is incidental music—particularly the music that is presumably intended to accentuate dialogue. It has been a conviction of mine that the expedient is a confession of actor weakness. No actor worthy of the name needs that kind of help. Some of you graybeards hark back to Edwin Booth and try to imagine him in the fourth act of "Rich-ellien," for example, delivering the curse of Rome speech in unison with the performers in the orchestra well!

One difference between theatrical performances in Germany and those in America is in this very incidental music. In our country every actor that holds a prominent relation to the play
in hand must have music to bring him on the stage and more music to take him off. The music cue is ridiculously overworked. Many plays are made unintelligible by the obtrusion of untimely music simultaneously with lines that nobody could catch. —Detroit Free Press.

Army of Ancient Rome.

Consider the Roman army from the fifth century B. C. onward until the division of the empire. Its fighting organization was as complete as and possibly more practical than that of any army of today. It was based on a territorial system which maintained the comradeship of locality without bringing it into antagonism with that of the corps, for each of the thirty-five Roman "tribes" was required to furnish to each legion four "centuries"
of 120 men each, each of which worked together as a local unit. The legion was divided into five cohorts or battalions, of which three were troops of the line, two were a kind of militia and the fifth was a depot battalion.
For almost eight centuries the army
thus constituted not only conquered the then known world, but acted as explorers beyond its limits and at the same time made and unmade kings and emperors in Rome itself.—London Opinion.

His Superiority.

A mission worker tells how shocked
she was to encounter this bit of cynicism in the slums. The conversation was between two women whose marital life had not been particularly felicitous.

"Well," said one of them, "of course
we has our troubles with all of 'em.
But I'll say this for my second husband—he's better than any first. He's in jail so much that practically all I earn I has for myself."—Lippincott's.

Santa Clara County Day, March 5th

Friday, March 5th is Santa Clara County Day at the Big Fair.
Take this tip and put on your best bib-and-tucker for the best good time of your life. Plans are well under way for a mammoth auto parade reaching from Gilroy to Palo Alto, 50 miles, every car to be one big beautiful bouquet of our famous Santa Clara Valley blossoms.
Campbell will be there on the jump. The business houses will be closed on that day and the merchants will take a trip to that wonderful city of sights. The school will probably close. Begin now with this motto. "Meet me on the Zone" and keep it up till March 5th. If you have a machine see Ralph Hyde, Captain of the flotilla.

A PETITION is being circulated and freely signed asking the Campbell Water Co. to install a pressure system to be paid for by the patrons in monthly payments of 15 cents for the residence. "At the end of 10 years the plant will have been paid for by the patrons and become the property of the public. The proposition seems to be a practical one and the payments so light that any patron can easily meet them. This will give the town an adequate pressure for firefighting in all streets and the Department will be in a better position to serve you.
Such a pressure will reduce the insurance rate which will be an other point in favor of the new system. Now is the accepted time. Dr.
Merrill is circulating the petition.

About 75 of the former residents of

was given after the sumptuous banquet served by the W. C. T. U. Dr. C. N.
Cooper acted as toastmaster.

The Alumni of '13 Highs enjoyed a most pleasant re-union at the home of Miss Ruth Hayes, Saturday afternoon and evening. After dinner the evening was spent in reviewing old times. Those present were: Misses Ruth Hayes, Florence Brown, Amy Farley, Alice
Duncan, Zedie Rice, Ruth Simpson,
Vaudine Putnam, Margaret Hinchliffe,
Geneva Currier, Mary and Mildred Beaver and Messrs. John Wood and Freeman Duncan.

A. G. Walker, of Palo Alto, state sealer of weights and measures, is here today testing out the scales and measures of the Campbell Merchants. He stated that our Merchants were particularly anxious to have the tests made and that the scales were exceptionally close,
some of them being but a few ounces off on several hundred pounds. Mr. Walker is a scale expert and made the necessary changes. It is an easy matter to cut prices with scales that weigh short. Our merchants can be complimented on the square deal they are giving their patrons.

P. T. Barnum once said that the American people like to be humbugged.
Are you being stung again? The method is a common one, only a magazine subscription, with a plea for a boost or some such string. One lady of Campbell told of several magazine subscriptions she had paid a traveling solicitor for that were never heard from afterward. Are you giving your subscription money to someone you don't know, with the possibility of no returns or recourse?
Any local agent who is responsible is deserving of whatever commission there is, and that much of your money remains in your community to help it grow.

Rubell-Marshman

Miss Claudine Rubell and Mr. George Marshman were united in marriage last week and have begun house keeping in C. O. Watson's cottage.

Both young people are very well known here and their friends extend best wishes.

The Eighth grade of the Cambrian
school will enact a 3-act play of Cinderella at the school Friday afternoon.

This play has been dramatized by the students who were drilled in their parts by the teachers, Misses Pitman and Sawyer. Specialties in the line of singing and dancing will be given during the performance.

The pupils have taken this means of raising funds for certain improvements
about the school and so worthy an aim is deserving of a most hearty support.
An admission fee of 10 cents for adults
will be charged and the public is cordially invited to the performance at 3 o'clock.

The cast follows:

Cinderella Joyce Robson
Prince Charming Harry Billings
King Harry Christensen
Queen, Fairy Godmother Elizabeth Duncan

Stepmother Harriet Dunphy
Stepsisters Edith Spellman, Ruth Metzler

Pages of the Court David Price, Wallace Shambaugh, Harold Townsend.

Fairies Emily Duncan, Beatrice Ralston
Storyteller and Preacher John Duncan, Jr.

Methodist Church Notes

Frank S. Graves and Mrs. Meda L.
Waite were elected members of the board of stewards by the quarterly conference to fill the vacancies caused by removals.

We missed Supt. Wright in the Sunday-school last Sunday. He was called to Pacific Grove on business.

Rev. G. O. Ash led the meeting Wednesday evening in the absence of the pastor.

Mr. Lloyd was called to Oakland to perform the marriage ceremony for his niece, Miss Irene Lloyd, and Mr. Harold Hilton, Wednesday evening. Many of the congregation will recall the visit of this couple at the parsonage, Christmas,
when they furnished some delightful
music at the church Sunday morning.
Mrs. Lloyd, Ruth, and Charles also attended the wedding.

The pastor is in hopes that by being called out of town to a wedding occasionally he may be able to keep track of the ritual for marriage until somebody in Campbell gets ready to venture. No hurry, of course.

If you would like a prayer meeting at your house some Friday evening in March, whether in town or country, let us know; and keep the evenings of Holy Week free for the meetings at the church.

Mr. Herrington will have charge of the League meeting Sunday evening, 65 out last Sunday. Make it at least 75
this time. We are after that banner.

The pastor will preach morning and evening, Sunday.

Increase of membership of the Methodist churches of the country last year, 231,460; Roman Catholics, 139,350;
Baptists, 122,125; these being the three highest in gains for the year.

Fine Concert

The main auditorium and primary room of the Methodist church were filled
Monday evening when the Harmonic Orchestra of San Jose gave the second number in the series of entertainments under the auspices of the Epworth League.

The orchestra is under the directorship of Ben F. King and is a very well trained group of musicians. The program included a great variety of selections and all of them were pleasing indeed.

Those who have attended the two numbers of the series are more than satisfied now with what they have received for their money, and will be ready to support a similar series next year.

We are to have a treat indeed next Sunday. Dr. J. K. Brown will be here both morning and evening. Dr. Brown has been called "The Silver Tongued Orator of the American Board." His long residence in the Orient—40 years in Turkey—makes him authority on his subject. Dr. Brown has been spending several months on the Coast and leaves soon for the East, so this will be our last chance to see him. Come and share this splendid opportunity with us, both morning and evening.

The series of morning messages on
"The Cross Builders" will be resumed
March 7.

If you are looking for a church home, Come; we can do you good. If you are looking for work, Come; you can do us good.

Fire Losses

The losses by fire in the U. S. during 1914 aggregated $225,591,350 and more than one half of this was due to carelessness. This is the heaviest fire loss in the history of the country except in 1904 which included the great Baltimore conflagration, 1906—the San Francisco fire and 1908 when the great fire occurred at Chilsea, Mass. The first fire insurance Co. formed in the U. S.
was organized in South Carolina in 1730.
It was called "The Friendly Society."
The next was the "Philadelphia Contributorship" founded in 1752.

Phone 14L

When news is scarce you frequently pick up your local paper, says an exchange; after glancing at the headlines
wearily thrust it aside, remarking,
"Nothing in the paper today." Did you ever stop to think what that "nothing in the paper today" means? It means that in the day or week just passed no misfortune has befallen anyone in our city;
that no fire has wiped out a neighbor's worldly goods; that the grim angel of death has crossed no threshold of a friend; that no man, driven by liquor, hated or fear, has taken the life of a fellow human; that no poor devil haunted by the past, or the misdeeds of some other, has crossed the great divide by his own hands. So the next time you pick up a paper that doesn't announce a tragedy, give a little thanks instead of grumbling because there isn't any news.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F.
